HURRY UP SESSION OF TOWN COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Transacted Business in Fifty Minutes and Gave Committees Plenty to Work Upon for Next Meeting.

TENTH STREET TO BE OPENED

Repaving of North Pittsburg Street Between Main and Orchard Alley Also Considered—Public Building Is To Be Repaired Outside and Inside.

In fifty minutes the Town Council last night transacted the business of the semi-monthly session. The opening of Tenth street, the repaving of North Pittsburg street between Main street and Orchard alley, direction of the West Penn railways to remove derailing switches on the West Side and an order for the opening of Smith alley were the principal matters that came before the Council.

No action was taken upon the veto of the ordinance renaming Main street Penn avenue, and the matter was not even talked of by the members of the council.

The meeting opened a half hour late with all members present except Wallace, Girard and Duggan. The latter came in shortly after the meeting was in progress, but Mr. Wallace is ill.

Chairman Thomas of the Finance Committee submitted the report of the Auditors of the old New Haven borough. It was in many respects incomplete and he asked that it be referred back to the Committee, to make a further report upon it at the next meeting. The audit summarizes the outstanding indebtedness of the borough as follows: Certificates of indebtedness $500; for paving bonds $2,000; issue of refunding bonds, $12,600; total $14,500. Following is given as evidence of money due the borough: Sewer notes, $209.00; municipal liens, $954.50, taxes due $1,846.11.

The bill of the three men who audited the Borough books for Connellsville was again referred to the committee the increase in salary not being allowed. The price for auditing the books has heretofore been $35, but this year the three auditors rendered a bill for $40, claiming that the time spent upon the books entitled them to that amount.

Mr. Thomas asked that the Borough Treasurer be allowed to pay the interest upon the sewer bonds May 1. He said that there would be no meeting before that time and the action should be taken at this meeting. He was directed to authorize the payment of the bills.

Edgar Cypher, Chairman of the Street Committee, offered a resolution that the West Penn Railways Company be directed to remove three derailing switches in New Haven. Two of them are located on Main street and one on Eight street. Councilman Lepley was opposed to the drastic action and said that he believed that it was part of the agreement between the trolley company and the railroad company that the derailers be kept in, and that it was not possible to have them removed at once. The Council voted, however, to have them taken out immediately.

The clerk was directed to advertise for bids immediately for the relaying of the pavement between Main street and Orchard alley on North Pittsburg street. It was stated that the Second National Bank, the gas and electric light and telephone companies will bear practically all the burden of repaving the street.

The opening up of Tenth street between Francis avenue and Main street was discussed but a few minutes and then the matter referred to the Borough Solicitors. It is proposed to open the street its entire length but it will have to be advertised several weeks and it is probable that the people of that section will be given a chance to express their views for and against it. As laid out now it will pass through the hospital grounds and a number of back yards. The committee went over the route with Borough Engineer Hogg yesterday, and became more than ever impressed with the necessity for laying out the street.

The action for the opening up of Tenth street also carries with it a proviso for the opening of Eleventh street and Edna street. Edna street appears to be a blind alley at present, although it is 60 feet wide. It is likely that some changes will have to be made in the opening of the streets, as in order to open them properly it will be necessary to purchase several properties and this the committee is opposed to. The attorneys and the Borough engineer will endeavor to straighten out these complicated curves at the next meeting.

The clerk was directed to notify the property owners along Smith alley to vacate at once. They were given 10 days in which to remove their fences and buildings from off the alley.

The committee reported that the numbering of the streets of New Haven was still under consideration and would be reported upon at the next meeting of the Council. John Duggan for the Water Committee reported "progress."

Councilman Buttermore asked that he be allowed to take bids for the repairing of the public building, inside and outside. After some discussion as to materials the matter was referred for action to the Public Grounds and Building Committee.

Tax Collector Miller of New Haven was allowed the use of the rooms in the public building.

The Revere Rubber Company declined to purchase the old rubber hose owned by the Borough but said it would endeavor to secure a purchaser.

The Volunteer Fire Department of the West Side petitioned the Council to be called Volunteer Department No. 1, and that they be allowed to elect a fire chief. They promised to conduct themselves in an upright and respectable manner and work for the good of the whole community. The matter was referred to the Public Safety Committee.

John Duggan stated that the Title & Trust Company did not own the sewers as had been supposed by a large number of people. He said that the company was only trustee for the company that now owned the interests of the Greenwood Land Company.

A notice was served upon Captain Harry Dunn to have the pavements laid along Etna street and Washington avenue, surrounding the Armory building. This matter was brought up several days ago, and Captain Dunn notified the Council that it would be necessary to have the papers forwarded to Harrisburg as locally he could not comply with or do anything with the request.

BASEBALL BEGINNING TO LOOK UP A BIT

Some Excellent Timber For Winning Team Arriving For Practise These Days.

If old J. Pluvius would let up for a day and give the players a chance to straighten out winter kinks the fans would have to set up and take notice. "Pop" Sweeney, the wise old owl in minor league baseball, has surrounded himself with the likliest bunch of fast youngsters ever started in Connellsville or any other of the Pwva towns.

Among those already here for tryouts are such well known players as Wilheron, third baseman, last year with Alliance, O.; "Dutch" Myers, second baseman with Rochester two seasons; Summers, short stop with Altoona last year; Gilligan, who played short for Uniontown last year and forgot more baseball than most youngsters know; Fraley, catcher, touted by Manager Weigand of the Johnstown Tri-State team as one of the most promising young catchers to come out this year; Skelly, a stocky third baseman, fast fielder and good hitter with last year's Ontario team; Walsh, a six-foot first baseman now with the Trenton Tri-State, who not only plays a swell game at first but is a fine outfielder as well; Shinx, another Tri-State pitcher and an old team mate of Sweeney; and last but least that good, hard hitting brainy player, Kig Hagan, who for four years managed and captained and played the third base on the New Castle team in the P. O. M. league.

Nobody will envy Alex his job in determining what players to keep and which to turn adrift. He will make no mistake, however, as fandom places great faith in his ability to note the weak spots and cull the good from the bad.

ACTS FOR SHERIFF.

Mrs. P. A. Johns Took Women to the Penitentiary this Morning.

UNIONTOWN, April 21.—Mrs. Peter A. Johns this morning escorted Mrs. Nettie Allis, convicted at the last term of court of conducting a disorderly house here, to the penitentiary this morning.

Mrs. Allis has a year and a half to serve in the prison. When she was sentenced the court told her as she was from Portland, Oregon, she had better return to that town, or at least for ever remain away from Fayette county.

Foley is Discharged.

Patrick Foley of Leisenring No. 1 was before Squire P. M. Buttermore of the West Side last evening on a charge of burglary made by County Detective Frank McLaughlin. On lack of evidence to convict him, Foley was discharged.

THE MORELAND WILL.

That of Connellsville Woman Finally Perfected.

After being in the register's office for a year, the probating of the will of the late Mary S. Moreland of Connellsville, was perfected yesterday at Uniontown. The testatrix died December 4, 1906. The will gives an estate valued at $500 in personal property and $2,500 in real estate to a half sister, Lizzie A. Hacket, of Wayne county, Ohio. William Hankins is named as executor. The will is dated May 1, 1903. The witnesses are Mrs. William Junk and John A. Hankins.

TRUANCY CASES WITH TWO SIDES.

Mrs. Mildred Arrested for Not Sending Boy to School.

SHE TRIED TO GET HIM THERE

But He Played Truant and It is Argued by Attorney Newmyer That She is Not Responsible, But the Usual Fine Is Imposed by Magistrate.

The school question and truancy dragged its length over several hours in Magistrate W. P. Clark's court yesterday and finally resulted in Mrs. Lucy Mildred, a widow woman paying $2 fine and costs for not sending her boy, Ernest, to school. Attorney P. S. Newmyer appeared for the woman and C. H. Whitely, truant officer, appeared for himself.

Mrs. Mildred at the outset of the trial did not deny that her boy had not been attending school, in fact she was under the impression that he played truant, but she gave evidence that she used all her endeavors to have him attend school, and that she repeatedly prepared and sent him off to school.

Truant Officer Whitely testified that he notified her that the boy was not going to school and charged her with at one time leaving them out the back door when he was coming for them. She admitted that they went out the back door but she thought they were going direct to the school room. Whitely, however, said that they went in the direction of Nigger Hill and that he could not catch up with them.

The question resolved itself into whether a parent was responsible for children when every effort was made to have them do right and they did wrong without the parent's knowledge. This feature was argued pro and con. Attorney Newmyer contended that as the woman had made all efforts to do what was right in the matter she should not be fined. Truant Officer Whitely argued that the law said the parents were responsible for the actions of their children. The case resulted in a decision by Magistrate Clark fining the woman and compelling her to pay the costs.

RUNNERS WILL TRY TO BREAK RECORD

Good Weather All That is Needed to Make Marathon Race Fast Speed Event.

With favorable weather and Fayette county's best amateur sprinters in the pink of condition, there is grave danger of the 13-mile record being broken at Marietta-Stillwagon park next Wednesday afternoon.

This expression came from James Cunningham, who for several weeks has been making his home at the Smith House. Mr. Cunningham was at one time a crack sprinter of the Dublin, Ireland, University and was a team mate of the famous Tommy White, the Irish lad, who made many records from 15 to 30 miles. Mr. Cunningham looked over the sprinters as they finished in the Uniontown-Brownsville race last Saturday and was surprised at the freshness of the runners after their long run. "I have been watching several of the local boys perform and they are doing their work in championship style," Mr. Cunningham said, after the Everson try-out Monday evening. "If everything is favorable to a long distance race the Connellsville Marathon will bring out a new champion with a new 13-mile record."

The prizes are being displayed today in the show window of S. F. Hood on West Main street. It is the finest lot of prizes ever offered for an athletic contest in this section. A list of the judges and checkers will be announced in a few days.

Peter Johnson Comes Back.

UNIONTOWN, April 21.—Peter Johnson, a brother in law of James R. Smith was arrested by Constable Jud Sisler on an old charge of malicious mischief.

FIREMEN ELECT THEIR OFFICERS.

Great Rivalry in the Annual Contest at Scottdale Last Night.

THEY HAD A BIG ATTENDANCE

Porter For President, Davis for Vice, Brown For Secretary, Baker For Treasurer, Brookman For Chief and McClain For Assistant.

SCOTTDALE, April 21.—The annual election of the Scottdale Volunteer Fire Department, which has been making a boiling of active politics in that organization for several weeks, took place in the Firemen's rooms in the Borough building, and was a spirited contest for the honors last night. There was a very large attendance and after it was all over everyone signified their intention of putting their shoulder to the wheel and pushing ahead the progressive organization with a greater vim than ever before. The Scottdale firemen are a lot of active young fellows and the people of the Mill Town are very proud of their department, which has some splendid work to their credit, are marked for their promptness, sobriety and fraternal spirit, and absence of jealousy.

The count of the votes showed as follows: For President, Hon. W. N. Porter, 31, and Arthur E. Collins, 25; for Vice President, Reese B. Davis, 43, and R. H. McNair, 13; for Secretary, Benjamin Baldwin, 10; Samuel E. Brown, 27, and Charles Shupe, 19; for Treasurer Leroy Baker, 33, and J. W. Singer, 25; for Chief, J. R. Dickerhoff, 23, John Mulhorn, 10, and J. A. Brookman, 26; for Assistant Chief, Edward McClain, 31, and J. G. Darling, 26.

President Porter and Secretary Brown were each elected for their third terms, and Leroy Baker for his second term. Chief Brookman has held that office some years ago. The tellers for the election were Emmett Baker, Smith Hamilton and John A. Taylor. The new fire helmets arrived for the department yesterday. They were ordered some months ago, and are of the regulation cone style, a protection against falling brick and such accidents and are each numbered with the Ward company they belong to. Each ward will get four of them.

MAD MOHAMMEDANS MASSACRE MANY

Throughout Larger Part of Asia Minor Christian Blood is Being Shed and Few Troops Present.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 21.—(Special.)—The massacre of Christians by the fanatical Mohammedan hordes has been renewed with redoubled fury throughout a large part of Asia Minor. Antioch and Birejik, in the province of Alepho, and Damascus in Syria are the new centers of outrages. The entire Province of Alepho is in a panic and the few troops on hand are absolutely powerless to protect the people. Entire villages have been destroyed and burned and foreign population is fleeing to the Consulate for protection. The British cruiser Diana has landed a strong force at Alexandria. Admiral Curzen Howe, British Commander of the fleet is now enroute to the scene from Malta, and momentarily expect him.

ADVANCE COLUMNS PLAINLY VISIBLE

Young Turks Will Probably Enter Constantinople this Afternoon. Guards Land From Ships.

United Press Telegram.

BERLIN, April 21.—Young Turks advance against Constantinople was resumed today and messages from the Turkish capital say that the advancing columns are now plainly visible from the outskirts of the city and that the army will probably enter the city within a few hours. Guards have been landed in Constantinople from the foreign ships in the harbor and they are prepared to protect the foreigners and their property.

The Young Turks have sent word that this precaution is not necessary as they themselves will see no danger befalls the foreigners. Martial law it is expected will be proclaimed at this afternoon's cabinet meeting.

Case Postponed.

The case of J. T. Zembower against The Tribune Publishing Company, alleging mismanagement on the part of W. M. Likins, which was to be heard by Magistrate D. M. Bierer was postponed until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

JOEL COOPER HURT.

Father of Congressman Met With Serious Accident.

Joel Cooper, an old and prominent resident of Franklin township, and father of Congressman Allen F. Cooper, met with an accident yesterday which may prove fatal. Mr. Cooper slipped on a wet board sustaining a broken thigh. He is in his 84th year Congressman Cooper left yesterday for Flatwoods to visit his father who is being carefully attended to at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William McBurney.

BOYLE MYSTERY IS NOW CLEARED

Private Detective Now Unravels Name of Identity of Alleged Kidnaper

BUT THE STATE IS PUZZLED

Criminal Attorneys Freely Say That the Young Woman of Many Names Has the Commonwealth Baffled as to Her Line of Defense.

United Press Telegram.

MERCER, April 21.—The mystery surrounding the identity of Mrs. James H. Boyle, who will be indicted it is said on Friday for the complicity in the kidnaping of Willie Whitla, has at last been cleared up by C. H. Schaeffer, superintendent of a private detective agency, in a personal investigation of the woman's history from the time that she was a little girl in Chicago. Criminal attorneys here, however, do not hesitate to say today that the conduct of the woman while she has been imprisoned has given no clew whatever to the Commonwealth as to what her line of defense will be.

Detective Schaeffer says that the woman is a daughter of William McDermott and Kate Farquhar McDermott, now dead, of Chicago. She is Anna McDermott, alias Mrs. Frank Yorke, alias Helen Parker, alias Helen Yorke, alias Mrs. Frank A. Miner, alias Helen McDonough, alias Helen Faulkner, alias Mrs. R. G. Walters, alias Mrs. Jones.

Great interest has been aroused here since the date has been set for the trial of James Boyle and the woman who claims to be his wife. Criminal attorneys today say that the conduct of the woman while she had been behind the bars has been of such a nature as to completely baffle the Commonwealth. She has not uttered a single word that could be of service to the prosecution in indicating the nature of the defense that will be offered.

Only a hurried visit of her attorney S. H. Miller to Cleveland on Monday night gave a clew that the defense may be along the lines of an alibi. The return of Attorney T. C. Cochran who will prosecute the case has given rise to many reports of the character of the defense. The absence of clews are causing the attorneys for the prosecution to be uncertain of what form the defense may come in.

SEEING OFFICIALS AFTER STRIKE VOTE

Pittsburg Railway Employes Will Lay Demands Before Company—Later Say Nothing Is Doing.

United Press Telegram.

PITTSBURG, April 21.—By a large vote the motormen and conductors of the Pittsburg Street Railways Company this morning voted to strike. This afternoon the officers of the union will go to the traction officials, either with a demand that a new wage scale be signed or that the controversy be arbitrated. The officers will back their demands up by authority of the men themselves to order a strike if the company will not grant the demands. Officials of the company say they have nothing to arbitrate and claim they have thousands of applications for work in case the men go out. Washington and Charleroi street car men have not yet reported.

THE SULTAN STICKS.

Old Man Stays on Throne But the Cabinet Falls.

LONDON, April 21.—(Special.)—The Exchange Telegraph's Constantinople correspondent wires this afternoon that the Young Turks and the Sultan have reached an agreement. The Old Man is to stay on the throne, but the cabinet resigns immediately.

Pension Board Meets.

A meeting of the Pension Board of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was held in Baltimore Monday and some interesting announcements are anticipated in this section.

ASSYRIAN QUARTER FURNISHES CASE FOR BURGESS AND SQUIRE.

Women Arrive on Scene When Children Are Fighting and Engage in Lively Encounter.

BLOODHOUNDS LOSE TRAIL.

Placed on Robbers Heels this Morning They Return to Fairchance.

UNIONTOWN, April 21.—The drug store of Minor G. Dunaway at Fairchance was robbed last night of cigars, cigarettes and pipes and bloodhounds were brought to the town this morning to trail the thieves.

After going in the store they tore down the alley and up over the hills toward a red house. Here they went out a window and after that apparently lost the trail for they wandered back to the town.

Many petty robberies have occurred in the town recently and this was the cause for bringing the dogs to the town. At noon today they are still making an effort to get on the trail.

ENTIRE POLICE FORCE DETAILED ON ARREST

Burgess J. L. Evans, Clerk Soisson, the newspaper men, police officers and witnesses spent an hour in police court this morning waiting for Martin Baldaugh of Dutch Bottom to appear and answer to the charge of disorderly conduct. A detail of police officers was finally sent out after the man, but they all returned dripping wet with the information that Baldaugh could not be found and the session was finally adjourned until the much wanted man could be brought before the Burgess.

It is alleged that Baldaugh is a bad actor and when he is to be arrested it always requires two officers. He is charged by residents of the neighborhood that he beat his child so severely that it ran to a neighbor's for protection, and that he is at all times making trouble in the neighborhood. The witnesses against him turned out this morning and were prepared to tell of the disturbance in the community but the offender could not be located. Every police officer has been instructed to bring him to the police station wherever he is found and keep him there until he can answer the charges against him.

GAY IS RODERICK'S PERSONAL FRIEND

Senator Crow Favored James W. Campbell to Fill George Whyel's Place on Board.

UNIONTOWN, April 21.—George E. Gay of this place was appointed a member of the Bituminous Board of Mine Inspectors by Chief James A. Roderick, succeeding George Whyel. The appointment was made at the suggestion of Chief of the Bureau, James Roderick.

Senator W. E. Crow opposed Whyel, supporting James W. Campbell of Leckrone, throughout the session, but the appointment of Gay was made at the instance of Roderick who is a personal friend of the appointee.

Although it is stated that the appointment was made through Mr. Whyel's influence this is an error, Mr. Whyel apparently not interesting himself in reappointment or the appointment of anyone else.

Mr. Gay is a recognized mining engineer and for years has been a close personal friend of Chief Roderick.

MOTHER COCHRAN'S BIRTHDAY MARKED

DAWSON, April 21.—A very prettily arranged birthday surprise party was given Mrs. Lydia Cochran at her home in Dawson Tuesday. The affair was arranged and carried out by Mrs. A. J. Cochran and Mrs. J. E. Cochran. The day was Mrs. Cochran's eightieth birthday anniversary and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

About 18 guests were present each bringing a basket of good things for dinner. It was a great surprise for Mother Cochran. A large cake inscribed with "Mother Cochran of Dawson, 80 years old," was given a prominent place on the table. It was a good old fashioned party given in the good old fashioned way.

The River is Higher.

Following the heavy rains of yesterday the river raised several feet.

ONE IS SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

Burgess Discharges the Old Lady and Fines the Younger $10 and the Case Moves From His Court to That of Magistrate Clark.

The Assyrian quarter was again stirred last evening by a domestic conflict within its fold. At the bottom of the fracas are two children who while at play stirred up a fight between themselves, which resulted in Christiana Jabars, aged 65 years, and Julia Thomas, who is a young woman, coming before Burgess J. L. Evans last evening on a charge of disorderly conduct and later before Magistrate W. P. Clark on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The hearing before Burgess Evans was interesting and enlivening. The women told their sides of the story which was to the effect that the two children were playing on the porch when they engaged in a quarrel.

Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Jabars arrived on the scene about the same time and the fight was transferred from the kids to the women, the younger one getting the best of the battle, tearing the old woman's hair and giving her several upper cuts.

After hearing the evidence in the case Burgess Evans fined Mrs. Thomas $10 and dismissed the case against Mrs. Jabars. A lively scene ensued when this action was taken, Mrs. Jabars kissing the hand of the Burgess and crying, the large tears rolling down her cheeks.

From the Burgess' office the case was transferred to that of Squire W. P. Clark where the whole story was rehearsed again and the charge of assault and battery preferred against Mrs. Thomas.

Here the case was styled Julia Yesheck with James Ellis, son of Mrs. Jabar as the prosecutor. The hearing was gone into at length and after all the evidence was in the litigants were held for court, all giving bail.

HOSPITALITY DENIED LEADS TO TROUBLE

Charles Snyder Refused to Allow Neighbor to Lodge Drunken Friend on Snyder's Porch.

SCOTTDALE, April 21.—Because Charles Snyder would not permit Charles Scarow to deposit a drunken friend on Snyder's front porch at his home at Tarr, it is alleged that Scarow became peevish and so much so that Snyder had to bring out a chair. He did not offer it to the intoxicated individual but hit Scarow with the furniture. This started a fight and the battle is said to have lasted for a couple of hours Monday. Anyhow this is about the story gleaned at a hearing which was given Scarow before Justice of the Peace H. C. Hubbs at Scottdale, when Constable T. J. Gillespie brought the man in under charges of assault and battery made by Snyder. The difficulty was allowed to simmer down under the agreement that Scarow should pay the costs otherwise go up and be a guest in the big building right in the rear of the Westmoreland county's two million dollar temple of law and justice.

JOHN HOAR MEETS DEATH AT TARR

SCOTTDALE, April 21.—John Hoar was almost instantly killed while walking on the Southwest Pennsylvania tracks near Tarr water plug by a southbound freight train yesterday evening. The dead man was aged 55 years, and with his brother, William, came to this country from England about a quarter of a century ago, and went to work as a miner in the Morewood works of the H. C. Frick Coke Company. After that he was for a number of years a toll gate keeper near Tarr. He lived at Ruffsdale, where he is survived by a widow. The body was brought on the train that killed him to J. I. Murphy & Company's undertaking rooms here and prepared for burial.

Rev. Slayter's Subject.

"According to Pattern" will be Evangelist Slayter's subject for the service tonight at the Christian Church. The service begins at 7.45.

In Social Circles.

Gym. Exhibition Tomorrow Night.

At the gymnastic exhibition to be given at the Colonial theatre, Thursday, April 22, under the auspices of the Physical Department of the Connellsville Y. M. C. A., the first three boys in both the junior and the intermediate classes who have scored the highest number of points in the gymnastic contests and have been most regular in their attendance will be presented with medals for their good work. The winners will not be announced until the night of the exhibition. The exhibition will certainly be a good one in all respects. The class drills are new and the wand drill to be given by the intermediate class will be excellent. The tumbling by the Seniors and the Intermediates will eclipse their work of the past greatly. There will be a dress rehearsal at the Colonial theatre tonight. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra under the direction of Prof. A. B. Morton will furnish the music for the exhibition. The pyramids by the Senior class will be a treat; a tower of fourteen high will be one of the features. The fencing between J. H. Adams of the Scottdale Y. M. C. A. and Mr. Prosch of the local association will be interesting and instructive. Reserved seat tickets are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office.

In Honor of Guest.

Mrs. James M. Borland of McKeesport, is the house guest of Mrs. Henry P. Snyder of East Fairview avenue. During her visit here Mrs. Borland will be an honor guest at several very pretty social functions.

This afternoon Mrs. Snyder, is hostess at bridge in honor of her guest; while on Friday afternoon Mrs. Frank D. Husband will entertain at cards at her home in Greenwood in honor of Mrs. Borland, and Miss Irene Husband of Mt. Pleasant. On Friday evening Mrs. R. E. Umbel of Uniontown, is giving a dinner in honor of Mrs. Borland, and on Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. F. Hood will give an informal tea in her honor.

Second Annual Reception.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the second annual reception and banquet of the Connellsville High School Alumni to be held in the Armory, Wednesday evening, May 26, at 8 o'clock. Invitations were sent out yesterday to all graduates. Each graduate is allowed the privilege of inviting a friend. Any graduate of the High School not receiving an invitation is requested to notify at once a member of the executive committee which is composed of C. W. Hays, chairman; J. Kirk Renner, and J. H. Spear. Over 300 invitations are out and from all indications the affair promises to be a large and enjoyable event.

Pretty Birthday Party.

In honor of her birthday anniversary Mrs. William Dull was tendered a very pretty surprise party last evening at her home at the Arlington Hotel. The affair was very cleverly arranged by several of her friends. About 30 guests were present and spent the evening at five hundred, and at midnight cards were laid aside and the guests adjourned to the dining room where an elaborately appointed luncheon was served.

I. X. L. I. Club Meets.

Five tables were in play at the regular meeting of the I. X. L. I. Club last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hyatt on Patterson avenue. Mrs Harry Schenck and W. L. Wright were the prize winners. A dainty luncheon followed the games. The next meeting will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. McKee on Main street, West Side.

King's Daughters Meet.

The King's Daughters of the Trinity Lutheran Church met last evening at the home of the Misses Brickman on East Main street. The meeting was well attended and a social hour followed the business meeting. Refreshments were served.

Interesting Social Function.

A social event of interest is the annual reception and dance of the Lodge of Elks to be held this evening in the Armory. Extensive arrangements are being made for the event and a most enjoyable evening is looked forward to. Music will be furnished by Kiferle's orchestra.

Concert Well Attended.

An old time concert was held last evening in the United Presbyterian Church in honor of the Home Department of the church. A very musical program was rendered in the presence of a large and appreciative audience.

Conferred Degrees.

At a meeting of the Knights of Malta held last evening in the lodge room in the Title and Trust building, degrees were conferred on a number of members. The meeting was an enthusiastic one and was well attended.

Aid Society Will Meet.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Powell, on North Pittsburg street.

Challenge Pedro Game.

The Yough Pedro Club and the Star Pedro Club will play a challenge game this evening. There are a number of expert players in both clubs and a lively game is anticipated.

Miss Hugus Will Entertain.

Miss Eleanor Hugus will entertain the Thursday Afternoon Card Club tomorrow afternoon at her home on North Pittsburg street.

Dunbar Township Alumni Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Dunbar township High School Alumni will be held Saturday evening, May 1, at the Wyman Hotel.

Afternoon at Cards.

Mrs. E. L. Sherrick is entertaining at cards this afternoon at her home on Washington avenue.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Simple Explanation of a Matter Not Generally Understood.

A great many people do not understand the difference between checks and cash, nor why it is so much safer to pay by check. The difference is just this: Bank notes, United States bills, gold and silver certificates and gold and silver coins are just as good in the hands of one man as another. If they are lost they are rarely recovered because they can be used so easily. A check, if lost, is protected by the fact that it is made payable to a particular party and while it is just as good as cash to that party, it is absolutely worthless to anyone else without an order or endorsement. This being the case the wisdom of paying by check is apparent and the First National Bank of Connellsville cordially invites your account no matter how small.

And With That Name?

It cost John Train $10 and 10 days in jail to get a shoeshine in Butler. Train took a handful of waste from a B. & O. freight car, intending to shine his shoes, he said.

THE CIRCUS COMING.

Cole Brothers' Will Be in Connellsville April 29.

Cole Brothers' World Toured Shows which will be here April 29, enjoy the proud distinction of being the one show that spares neither money nor expense in caring for their patrons. They have taken advantage of every modern appliance to do this and in every possible way have considered the comfort and safety of the thousands who daily visit them. The old time worn circus seats have been abolished and in their stead, roomy backed seats with easy foot rests. Every seat is so situated that an unobstructed view can at all times be had of the three rings and elevated stages and no act is given that cannot be seen from any part of the huge tent. Less than one-quarter of the seating space is reserved and this grand stand section is provided with individual chairs, all of which are numbered and only tickets sold to correspond with these numbers. At no time is standing room sold. To see that every one is provided with seats, there are over 50 uniformed ushers in attendance whose undivided attention is given to the patrons and ladies and children may attend any of the performances unaccompanied by escorts or chaperones and feel assured that they will be courteously cared for. The uniformed attendants in the menagerie, horse fair and other departments are under orders to answer all pertinent questions politely and intelligently and patrons may at all times seek information knowing it will be furnished them willingly and politely. At night the tents are all lighted with the show's own system of lighting, and are made as bright as when lighted by the sun's rays.

RECEPTION FOR REV. J. S. JEWELL

The Flatwoods and Star Junction Congregations Give Farewell to Departing Minister.

In honor of their pastor, Rev. J. S. Jewell, who recently resigned his charge as pastor of the Flatwoods and Star Junction churches, the members of the two congregations gave a large reception last evening. Despite the inclement evening over 75 members and friends of the two congregations were present. Rev. Jewell has been pastor of the Flatwoods Baptist Church for nine years and of the Star Junction Church for four years. During that time he has made many friends who will regret to see him leave for his new charge at Washington, Pa.

A number of impromptu addresses were made while several instrumental selections were rendered by John and Frank Shelby and Wilbur Mills. Miss Peters of Star Junction rendered a very pretty solo, "Face to Face." M. E. Townsend presented Rev. Jewell with a purse containing $325 while in behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society Mrs. Jonathan Shaffer presented him with a purse containing $5. The Star Junction church presented Rev. Jewell with a very beautiful set of table linen. A well appointed luncheon followed. Rev. and Mrs. Jewell and family will leave Monday for Washington, Pa. Rev. J. W. Hayes of Elizabeth, Pa., the new pastor, succeeding Rev. Jewell, will have charge on the third Sunday in May.

DENNIS IS MAD.

Prize Fighter Resents the Imputation That He Can Be Stopped in Four Rounds.

Long, lean, lanky Dennis Johnson is on the warpath. He says that Rufus Turner has shown the white feather and unless he comes to his terms, which he says were very reasonable, he won't be at the Casino Opera House this evening to fight the four round go. Dennis says that Turner made his boasts that he could stop him in four rounds and the latter is doubtful if Turner can turn the trick in 26 of them.

Johnson says that he is not fighting for glory, but he is willing to make terms with Turner, and he hopes that he will turn up, too.

John McCormick, a well known local glass worker, has invented a valuable device which it is thought will sell quickly if put on the market. It is a small concern made from tin which is placed on the dashboard of a buggy or any vehicle in such a manner that when the driver leaves the buggy he can place the reins in this contrivance so that it makes it impossible for the reins to get out of the position in which they were left. The device is very simple and fixed in such a way that when slipped or pushed on the dashboard the two ends will contract and hold it in place, and the part that holds the reins is the two pieces of tin opened and part like rubber. They can be forced open and put the lines in and then they will close holding the lines in a strong grip. It can be attached to any vehicle in a minute, and is very cheap and serviceable. It is likely he will place them on sale in the near future.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, April 20.—Dr. R. D. Howard of Fairmont, W. Va., is visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. A. Howard.

Major I. M. Abraham Camp, S. of V., have sent a card to each member of the camp requesting him to meet at their next regular meeting, Tuesday evening, April 27. Business of importance to the members will come up for action.

Robert Sturgis of Springhill township, was a borough visitor this morning.

Garden making was in full swing yesterday.

The wedding of Dr. Roy D. Howard of Fairmont, W. Va., and Miss Blanch Sturgis of R. F. D. No. 8, Smithfield, is unofficially announced to take place in June. The bride-to-be is the talented daughter of the late T. J. Sturgis and wife of near Morris Cross Roads. The groom is a rising young physician and surgeon, the third son of A. Howard and Mrs. Rebecca Core Howard.

William Parshall, Reuben Howard, W. S. Bishoff, Uniontown; H. C. McIntosh, Pittsburg, were business arrivals today.

Bank examiners Charles W. Robinson, Harrison Nesbit and A. P. Smith of Pittsburg, spent yesterday and today looking after the affairs of the First National bank which they found in a satisfactory condition.

Charley Greeno, Smithfield's contestant in the Uniontown Marathon, is as fit as a fiddle and is waiting to hear the conditions and prizes of the Connellsville event. If favorable he will enter the list. Some of the enthusiasts who saw him finish at Uniontown say they will back him for $1,000 to beat that bunch on a level track.

NORMALVILLE.

NORMALVILLE, April 21. — The farmers who got started on oat sowing have been somewhat discouraged by the latest weather conditions.

John Schobert and Francis Eberhart of Mill Run, tarried a while in the village Saturday.

Julius Biro and Louise Vlocazky were married Sunday afternoon by A. G. C. Sherbondy, at the home of the groom.

W. A. McClune of Mill Run, was calling on acquaintances here Saturday.

The Normal School opened Monday for an eight weeks' term with a large attendance and still more to come. Prof. McKnight is the instructor.

Andrew Johnston has moved from his farm back to the village. Mr. Johnston, unlike most people, lives on his farm during the winter and in town in summer.

Miss Maude Brooks was at Uniontown Saturday attending the teachers' professional examination. She returned home Sunday evening.

Misses Twilla Brooks and Mattie McLean returned Monday on No. 1, after an extended visit to Connellsville and Scottdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallcott of the McFarland Lumber camp were calling on friends here Saturday afternoon.

W. Hampton Leichliter was here Saturday and articled with the Indian Creek Coal & Coke Company to log their timber on the Showman property on Laurel Hill.

Sportsmen report that brook trout are scarce in the mountain streams on account of the dry weather and forest fires last fall.

DAWSON.

DAWSON, April 21.—F. E. Blose, P. & L. E. agent at Dickerson Run, is attending an agents' meeting in Pittsburg today.

A new awning has been placed in front of the Stuman Clothing Store on Railroad street.

A number of Dawson fans will attend the opening game in the Smoky City tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hecklinger of Warren, Ohio, have returned home after a few days visit here with their son, Martin, Jr.

Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran and niece, Miss Bess Rist, and nephew, James Smith, have returned home after spending the winter in Florida.

J. L. Thomas is a Pittsburg business caller today.

Miss Clara Prichard of Connellsville attended the Cochran birthday party here Tuesday.

Dawson will be represented in the Connellsville Marathon race next week.

Many complaints have been made during the past few days in regard to parties burning waste paper on the streets and alleys. There is a State law prohibiting this and people should guard against it.

Mrs. Maggie Laughrey is calling on friends in Connellsville today.

Not the Same.

Evelyn—If I had an airship I'd fly away and seek my fortune.

Howard—If you had an heirship your fortune would come to you.

FELDSTEIN'S

BIG CLUB OF OPTIMISTS.

Chicago Rabbi Wants One Composed of Every American City's Citizens.

"An optimists' club, composed of all the citizens of every city in the United States, should be organized," said Rabbi Tobias Schanfarber in his sermon the other morning at K. A. M. temple, in Chicago. "The croaking, querulous pessimist walks about the earth with his eyes closed, finding fault. Things are far from perfect, but the first hour of the twentieth century is the best hour the world has ever looked upon.

"Dirges of despair are heard as to industrial conditions, and we are far from having reached the wished for goal. But there is none who is so foolish as to deny that there is a growing better feeling between capital and labor.

"The nations of the world are not as harmonious as they should be, but today the whole civilized world is living together in peace. Religious prejudice has not been wholly wiped out, but there is no period in the history of the world when conditions were as hopeful as they are today. On the whole, there is warrant for taking a cheerful view of conditions that confront humanity."

TROWEL ON ITS TRAVELS.

Masonic Implement Owned in New York to Be Taken To Mexico.

The traveling trowel of Justice lodge, No. 753, of New York, now in possession of Southern California lodge, No. 278, of Los Angeles, will be turned over to a City of Mexico lodge of Masons with ceremony on May 10.

The trowel, which is made of silver, was started on its way by the New York lodge on Dec. 6, 1905, and it is the intention to give it into the custody of every grand lodge jurisdiction in the world before its journey, which will require at least twenty years, is completed. It has already been in possession of the Masonic jurisdictions of New York, Canada, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Indiana, Illinois, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, Vancouver, B. C., and California.

It will be taken to the City of Mexico by the California Masons and delivered into the keeping of Anahuac lodge with great ceremony, four well known California Masons carrying it and being accompanied by others in a special train.

DEAFNESS CURED BY HYOMEI

(PRONOUNCED HIGH-O-ME)

If you are deaf and the deafness is due to catarrh, then read this honest, straightforward statement of one who had lost all hope.

Read This Letter.

"I suffered intensely some two years from a bad case of catarrh, which left me very deaf.

"I doctored and used various remedies, said to be good for catarrh.

The disease bothered me over a year, when I became deaf. Then I commenced to doctor, to get rid of the deafness. I came discouraged at the outlook and well I might be, for there was nothing I used that helped me.

The trouble continued until I was advised to try Hyomei and I procured a treatment. I used Hyomei thoroughly as per directions for a few weeks and much to my surprise the deafness and catarrh left me entirely.

Since using this wonderful remedy, there has been no return of the trouble whatever, my hearing is good and there is no catarrhal trouble whatever, and for this reason I know I have abundant cause for calling Hyomei a wonderful remedy and endorsing its use."—Earl Howe, 202 Cherry St., Allegan, Mich. October 9, 1908.

Hyomei has become known the world over, as an almost certain cure in any catarrhal condition of the nose and throat. It is easy and pleasant to use; you simply breathe in the healing, antiseptic air, made from the concentrated extract of the mighty eucalyptus trees of Australia, through a hard rubber inhaler, and as this penetrating air passes over the diseased and germ ridden membrane, it promptly kills the germs of catarrh and allays the inflammation. A. A. Clarke will sell you a complete Hyomei outfit, including a bottle of Hyomei and a neat pocket inhaler, for only $1.00 and he guarantees it to cure catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, coughs and colds or money back.

"Hyomei sold in every town in America."

WEDNESDAY EVE'G., APR. 21, 1909.

THE NEW LAW CONCERNING BOROUGH CONSOLIDATIONS.

Under the terms of an act passed at the late session of the Legislature, the consolidation of boroughs is placed on the same plane as the consolidation of cities with respect to the voting consent of the citizens of the affected communities, that is to say the right of the majority of the community to rule is recognized.

Under the old law there could be no consolidation unless the citizens of such city or borough voted in favor of the joinder. The city limits and borough boundaries were regarded as moated battlements which the mandate of the law might not scale. Now the more sensible conclusion is established that the wishes of a majority of any common community shall determine their particular form of government. The new law finds its firmest foundation upon the old established rule of republican government which declares in favor of those policies which are calculated to produce "the greatest good to the greatest number."

We recall the fact that Pittsburg and Allegheny were finally united under such a law, and that the law was tested in the highest courts of the State and Nation and by them determined to be constitutional. The late law affecting boroughs provides:

Section 1.—That two or more boroughs with any intervening land may be united and become one by annexing and consolidating the same.

Section 2.—That the several borough councils may by ordinance direct the filing of a petition in the Court of Quarter Sessions praying for an election or that two per centum of the registered voters of either of said municipalities may present a petition to said court. Thereupon the court shall set a time for hearing the petition not more than 20 days thereafter and if the proceeding is found to be regular the court shall fix a time for the election.

Section 6.—That if a majority of all the voters of the municipality and on the intervening land who voted favored consolidation the court shall enter a decree annexing and consolidating the said municipality and intervening land.

Section 7.—That the constituent municipalities and the intervening land shall pay its own floating and bonded indebtedness and liabilities of every kind.

Section 8.—That the consolidation shall not deprive an elected officer of the respective municipal governments so united of his office and compensation for the full term for which he should have been elected.

The agitation in South Connellsville for separate incorporation, if carried out as contemplated, would have availed her nothing if the Connellsville citizens would subsequently have determined that the suburb should, to insure "the greatest good to the greatest number" of this contiguous community, be consolidated with Connellsville borough.

We do not think there is any disposition to make an unwilling bride out of South Connellsville, but it is evident that her interests lie with us and that their conservation will be promoted by becoming a part of us.

THE CODIFICATION OF THE BOROUGH ORDINANCES.

The suggestion that the borough ordinances of Connellsville and New Haven, now consolidated into one big town, should be remodeled and made into a code suitable to the times, and that this should supplant fragmentary jumble of old ordinances, is wise and timely.

The codification should be placed in the hands of a committee acting conjointly with the Borough Solicitors. The new code should be formulated with due regard to our changed conditions and the demands of modern times. It should be framed, passed, published and set in motion as promptly as possible. It will fill a want.

Above all, however, the borough code should be simple and easily understood.

FIRST MARATHON RACE AND ITS LESSONS.

The Marathon race is the newest form of athletics and in many respects it is superior to other strenuous forms of working off surplus youthful energy. Perhaps its most commendable feature is its lack of brutality. It is a healthful and hearty exercise open to a single danger, and that may be avoided by a reasonable amount of training. Weak hearts should avoid Marathon races.

The original Marathon race was run in Greece about 500 B. C. The invading Persians met the Greeks near Marathon. A stretch of six miles of plain extended along the seashore. Miltiades commanded the Greeks. They smote the invader with Macedonian courage and vigor. The hosts of the effete East fled before Greek valor, and history indicates that they made the run of their lives.

Miltiades ran for office afterwards and was successful, but he subsequently pinched a fleet and ran away with it. This was his Marathon finish. We are having Marathon races in Fayette county just now, political and otherwise. The participants should all recall and profit by the experience of Miltiades, the Greek commander.

THE DISEASE-BREEDING FILTHY HOUSE FLY.

The common house fly is filthy and disease-breeding, and should be kept out of the house by every available means from screens to the stick-fast paper which usually sticks fast to everything in reach with cheerful impartiality.

The dangers of the fly are recognized by the Federal Government, and a campaign of extermination and instruction will be waged against the insect and in behalf of the people in the District of Columbia this summer under the direction of the Health Officer. An eminent scientist pays this tribute to the fly:

The house fly, the dirty fly, the typhoid and cholera infantum fly will soon swarm in thousands of millions, unless precautions are taken. The house fly, which we were taught in our childhood to treat with kindness, has been exposed. Its habits are filthy. It breeds in stables and garbage pails and carries the filth it revels in and tracks it across the sugar, the butter and the beefsteak. It paddles its horrid feet, gummed with the vilest rotting matter, in baby's milk. It probably disseminates every disease. It must be exterminated. It can be driven out of every city, in an age of knowledge, screen and cheap disinfectants there is no excuse for flies in any household.

A determined effort on the part of the housewife will practically rid her house of this pest. In offices, it is a more difficult proposition, but the annoyances may be minimized. The bald-headed man should be especially and unceasingly vigilant in the work of extermination.

GALLANT CONNELLSVILLE AND THE SILKEN LADY.

The Uniontown newspapers complain bitterly that Connellsville is flirting with its first manufacturing proposition in recent years, and they charge that Mud Island is trying to entice Uniontown's all-but-located silk mill away.

The charge is utterly groundless. If our information is accurate, and we have reason to think it is, the flirtation was begun by the fair silken stranger. She appeared at our doors and native politeness forbade us from being rude to a real lady. She was invited in and asked to make her wants known, which she did without hesitation and without any embarrassing modesty. Connellsville's gallantry, which never fails, rose to the occasion with knightly courage.

If the silken lady should prefer our company to that of the cold and unfeeling Beesontown we will be gratified, but we will not be flattered.

A Uniontown paper declares that that town has "just as cheap freight rates as Pittsburg." We will have to be shown. We are painfully aware that we are not within the 40-mile Pittsburg radius and we know that Uniontown is twelve miles further on. We fear Uniontown's vehicles of publicity are making some unwarranted claims, but little else can be expected from editors who have the temerity to claim that Uniontown is the Center of the coke region.

Japan has a graft sensation. The Jap is learning entirely too fast.

There is no lack of interest in the meetings of the Town Council, and the fact is a matter for congratulation. When the people lose interest in their own business their representatives are apt to lose sight of that interest too.

The opening of Tenth street through the State hospital property may prove more difficult than usual. The rights of the State are sovereign, and in this matter the Trustees of the hospital will be obliged to forget that they are Connellsville citizens and earnest promoters of her progress and remember that they are custodians of the State's interest.

The suckers are making their appearance in the Yough since it has been determined that the stream is worthy of canalization as far as West Newton. We hope there is no significance in this fact.

Peter C. Hains is in danger of joining Harry Thaw.

The Sultan is reported to be calling on the War Lord of Germany for assistance. He must feel willing to pay a stiff price for help.

Don't buy stocks on margin is the advice of a Philadelphia paper. Most people found that out a year or more ago, but Philadelphia's gait was never remarkable for its swiftness.

It is admitted by officials of the United States Steel Corporation that their act in taking over the Tennessee Coal & Iron properties was not a matter of pure philanthropy as President Roosevelt once intimated, but that it was a business proposition as well; and it seems, further, that the business proposition is regarded as a very good one to hang on to. It is hard to understand how the matter could be viewed in any other light.

The experience of Fairchance with regard to the sale of liquor to boys is merely a small sample of the condition which would prevail under Prohibition.

Scottdale proposes to turn the red and blue lights upon criminals. Nobody will hanker to be in these gaudy spot-lights.

Having thoroughly cleaned house, the Republicans of Pennsylvania are once more a united and happy family. The example is a good one for Fayette county Republicans to follow. Family fights should always be settled at the primary, which is to say within the bosom of the family.

Compressed air is perhaps the safest power that can be employed in gaseous mines, and every mine is presumed to be guilty until proven innocent.

Scottdale has a really Steam Roller.

Westmoreland county people have a habit of living a long time, perhaps because they live in a big county where there is plenty of room and lots of fresh air.

The Marathon craze is spreading.

The Pennsylvania Legislature didn't pass all the desirable legislation suggested and offered, but it is safe to say that it has not passed any undesirable legislation, and that is saying a great deal for any Legislature.

"I thought the matter should be submitted to all the Democratic lawyers of the county, and especially to those whose names were mentioned as probable candidates, and let them discuss it and consult with each other and their clients throughout the county, and so DETERMINE and INDICATE WHO, in their judgment, the DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE SHOULD BE, and I stated positively and sincerely that so far as my being a candidate is concerned, the judgment and wishes of the Democratic lawyers and their clients would DETERMINE THE MATTER and I would be controlled thereby and act accordingly."

Judge Umbel's announcement, March 31, 1909.

"In my opinion this is not a question to be SETTLED and DETERMINED by 90, nor even 100 per cent. of the Democratic lawyers of Fayette county, but should be, and so far as I am concerned, will be SETTLED and DETERMINED by the over 8,200 Democratic voters of the entire county."

Actual Values

Are what count in the long run. The store that day in and day out sells you goods that you can depend upon at prices that are right in the kind of a store that should be your home store. We have been talking actual values stronger this spring perhaps than ever before because never before in neither your or this store's history has a dollar counted for quite as much as it does now. Perfectly plain in telling you why we were willing to do our selling this spring for little or no profit. Don't expect to sell the goods we have here this spring at anything like a fair profit but do expect to sell the goods and those of you who keep in touch with this store will have some rare opportunities to save money. The woman who bought her supply of Bates' ginghams, percales and her Anderson's ginghams and those other goods at those sales we had some weeks ago will appreciate this. There will be other opportunities for you all during this spring season if you'll take advantage of them.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES AT 50c.

A table of colored dresses, sizes 1 to 6 years, on show this week. Dresses that we would ordinarily sell for 75c and they are worth it. Most of them made from Bates' ginghams in neat stripes and checks. You'll save yourself lots of sewing and worry once you see these.

SILK AND NET WAISTS FOR $5.00.

Not a waist in the lot worth less than $7.00. Silk in black and colors. Net waists in white and cream. Some of these new in stock this week. None of them here longer than a month. Styles and colors that will be sure to please.

NEW NECKWEAR.

A case full of new neckwear to show this week. Priced at 25 and 50 cents. New novelties that you will not find everywhere. Call particular attention to the values at 25 cents. More of a variety than we ever had to show at this price.

CHILDREN'S COATS.

Sizes 2 to 8 years and priced from $2.00 up to $6, $8 and $10, but more at $3, $4 and $5, than all the other prices. Stylish little jackets that are just the kind you will want your children to wear, and these are extra values at the prices quoted.

SILK DRESSES AT $17.00.

More of those $17 foulard dresses to show you this week. One of the best dress bargains this store has had to show for some time. Made of best quality foulard silk, in pretty new patterns. Lace trimmed at neck and sleeves. Hardly two alike in the entire showing. About as near $25 dress value as we ever had to offer.

CARPETS AND CURTAINS.

Time to think of these now, buying time and we would like to have you see the showing we have here. Rug prices for 9x12 start at $17 and from that on up to $45. Stinson Tapestry Rugs at $22.00 and Stinson Velvet Rugs at $25. Rug values that we are proud to have to show. Stinson Carpet, Tapestry, $1.10 the yard and Stinson Velvet $1.25 the yard, made, laid and lined, and we have sold Stinson carpets ever since this was a carpet store. Better carpet values not found, care not where you go. Lace curtain prices start at $1.00 the pair and from that on up as high as you care to go. Showing this week more of these special values at $2 and $2.50 the pair. Curtain bargains out of the ordinary and you'll say so too once you see the curtains.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTTDALE.

George Ellenberger Gets His Third Contract for School House.

HAS EXCAVATED FOR TWO HERE

Earl W. Fretts Who Is at White Haven Reports Getting Better—Governor J. Frank Hanley Coming Next Tuesday Evening For Lecture.

SCOTTDALE, April 21.—George Ellenberger has secured from the firm that has been engaged to build the new High school building the contract for the excavation for the cellar and walls of the new structure. Word has not been received as to the time of beginning the work. Mr. Ellenberger had the contract for the two big school buildings put up here previously, and always maintains his good reputation as a workman.

Another Governor Coming.

Secretary W. J. Graef of the Y. M. C. A. and G. F. Kelly of the Lecture Committee of the Association were in Pittsburg and find that it is impossible to have Governor John Johnson of Minnesota here to close the lecture course, all eastern dates having been cancelled. Governor J. Frank Hanley, a strong speaker, a brilliant orator, and noted public man, will be here instead next Tuesday evening at the Geyer Opera House at 8.15. This number will close the strongest lecture and entertainment course ever given in town. The sale of seats begins at Barkell's on Saturday.

Earl Fretts Better.

Earl Fretts, formerly with J. B. Hogg and the Frick company, who went to Sunny Rest Sanitarium at White Haven, for treatment for throat trouble, has responded to the treatment which he began a few days ago in very promising shape, and the physicians believe that the trouble will be cured within a short time. Mr. Fretts is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fretts of Chestnut street and has many friends throughout the coke region who will be glad to hear from him.

Flower Bed Mixed Up.

The circular flower bed on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's property at Broadway and Pittsburg street, a delight to the eye of all beholders for its magnificent floral display is being put in condition by the railroad for the summer blooming. The border has been rebuilt with the greenest of sod and the top of the mound rounded off and planted with the first flowers that will color the spot.

Rhodes & Bradley Forgot.

It is a common practise on a Monday evening for the stores to keep open later than the other days of the week except Saturday. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday they shut up at 6 o'clock. Monday night at Rhodes & Bradley's the clock went wrong or someone snatched two or three sheets off the calender when Harry Stoner wasn't looking, and the consequence was that J. T. Bradley hurried out and began to take in the radishes, celery and 'taters before 6 o'clock. In the evening about a dozen people called Bradley up and asked all the fool questions that they could think of until his Christian patience was almost worn out.

A Chimney Fire.

The alarm that came in at 6 o'clock Monday evening was caused by the chimney at the residence of Andy Cane getting overheated. The department got out on Everson avenue and squirted water on the blaze subduing it very quickly. John Kritschgau, Jr., adequately described the extent of the conflagration by saying, "The total loss was four shingles, fully covered by insurance."

Drilling Through Reservoir.

W. Dick Fretts is busy with his well drilling machine putting holes through the wall of the Citizens Water Company's reservoir above the ore mines. This has been necessary in order to stop a leak that has been in the reservoir for sometime. A hole is drilled down to the leak and then concrete is poured into the hole to spread it through the wall. Two hundred barrels of concrete have been used already in closing the leak.

The Scrap Book

In Black and White.

A southern banker gave his young son $5, and instead of spending it the boy handed it back to his father to deposit for him in order that he might draw the interest. A few days later, however, the youngster saw something he wanted more than he did the interest, so asked his father to please return the money.

This the banker refused to do, explaining that the son had no note for the money and unless he could prove in black and white that the money had been handed him the $5 was his.

The youthful financier looked both puzzled and unhappy. Then his countenance cleared. He called the colored butler.

"John, did you see me give father $5 the other day?"

He was answered in the affirmative. Then he put the same question to his grandmother.

When she, too, said yes young Machiavelli turned to his father triumphantly:

"There, father, I have it in black and white!"

He got the money.

Sunstruck.

Old Deacon Calhoun appeared on the street one day with his face banged and battered and patched in a most fearful manner.

"Yo' say yo' wuz sunstruck, Deacon Calhoun?" exclaimed a friend. "Fo' de lan's sake, man, no sun could disfiggah a face like dat!"

Deacon Calhoun, with a sad smile, shook his head.

"You don' know mah son," he said simply.

Went Him One Better.

President Nicholas Brown, for whom Brown university was named, was fond of quizzing small boys. One day while walking in the streets of Providence he came upon a little fellow who attracted his notice.

"How do you do, my boy?" said the president. "What is your name?"

"My name is Harry, sir," replied the child.

"Harry, is it?" returned President Brown. "And did you know the evil one is often called Old Harry?"

"Why, no, sir," answered the boy. "I thought he was called Old Nick."

A Slight Misunderstanding

A lady from South America, possessed of a decidedly quick temper, visited New York with a very incomplete knowledge of the English language. At her hotel she rang for the chambermaid. But a waiter came instead. Having ascertained that the name of the chambermaid was Susan, the lady marshaled her meager knowledge of English in a desperate effort to make the waiter understand that he should call the chambermaid. What she said to him, however, was:

"Call me Susan!"

The waiter leaned against the wall much alarmed.

"Call me Susan!" shouted the South American.

The waiter became appalled.

"Call me Susan!" roared the lady, her eyes flashing furiously.

"Susan, then, if you will have it!" exclaimed the poor waiter. Then he fled precipitately.

He Wouldn't Shoot.

During a strike in the coal mines of West Virginia some years ago apprehension on the part of the state authorities led to the calling out of the militia. There was really no trouble, but the situation was tense, and bloodshed was looked for at any moment. One day a soldier in uniform off duty was strolling through the main street of the town wherein the greatest violence was feared when he was surrounded by a crowd of strikers.

"Honest, now, Bill," asked one of the men of the militiaman, "would you fire at your fellow men?"

"No, I wouldn't," promptly replied the man in uniform. "I never shot at any one in my life, an' I ain't goin' to do it now."

The crowd cheered, and some one invited the militiaman to have a drink, an invitation which he accepted with alacrity. When he had satisfied his thirst the question was put:

"If you are in sympathy with the strikers, why did you answer the call to come here?"

"I ain't said I was in sympathy with the strikers," was the unexpected rejoinder of the man in uniform.

"But you said you wouldn't shoot at a miner; that's the same thing," protested one of the men.

"Well, fellers," said the uniformed one after a moment's hesitation, "to tell you the truth, I never carried a gun in my life. The fact is I play the cornet in the band."—Harper's Weekly.

Consolation.

Lord Aberdeen at a charity dinner in Liverpool said: "I arrived at a railway station one day where I was expecting a telegram to await me. I went up to a porter and asked him would he mind inquiring at the station master's office whether there was a telegram for me. 'There's none for you, sir,' replied the porter. 'I've just come out of the office, and there's only one telegram there, and that's for Lord Aberdeen.' Just then an official who knew me approached, and I explained the position to him remarking jocularly that the porter certainly did not think I looked the part. By way of consoling me he promptly replied 'Never mind, my lord. If you don't look it, you feel it.'"

A Refreshing Bath

"I remember," said Philadelphia's mayor, "we all remember, the time when the mildest storm would make our water unit to bathe in, let alone to drink. The only man in those days who could ever find a good word to say for our water was Peter Burness, the optimist of the court of quarter sessions.

"'Actually,' I said to Peter one morning after a storm, 'I couldn't take a bath today on account of the muddy water. It was like brown paste.'

"'Oh, I took a good long bath,' said Peter. 'When the Schuylkill water is like that it is the best fluid in the world to bathe in. So medicinal, you know. Better than Homburg or Marienbad or any of those places.'

"'But it's so muddy,' said I.

"'That's just the point,' said Peter. 'It's medicinal mud—full of all sorts of phosphates and things. Tonight when you get home fill your bath, jump in and splash about. But afterward don't use any towels.'

"'No towels!' I objected.

"'There's a much better way than towels,' said Peter. 'Stand before the radiator and let the water dry on your body. Then brush it off with a whisk broom.'"

Locating the Joke.

A hearty laugh had gone almost around over the story of the fisherman who to locate the place on the lake where he had had good luck cut a nick in the side of his boat. "Almost around," for the Englishman sat solemn and silent. About five minutes later, however, he awoke with a roar of laughter and when asked the trouble replied, "Well, wouldn't it be a corking good joke if that fisherman got a different boat the next time he went out?"

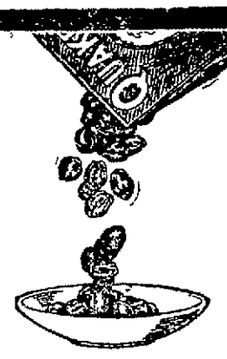
The Foods that are Shot from Guns



Quaker Puffed Rice—13c

Quaker Puffed Wheat—10c

The Most Enticing Foods in Existence

Here are curious foods — giant grains puffed to eight times their natural size. Porous, crisp and digestible. The most wholesome, most delicious form in which cereal foods ever were served. Please try them.

This is how we make them:

The whole wheat or rice kernels are put into sealed guns. Then the guns are revolved for sixty minutes, in a heat of 550 degrees.

That heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes terrific.

Then the guns are unsealed. Instantly every starch granule is blasted into a myriad particles. The kernels of grain are expanded eight times—made four times as porous as bread. Yet the coats are unbroken, the shapes are unaltered.

The result is this magnified grain, delicious and crisp — so porous that it melts in the mouth.

Prof. Anderson's Invention

These are the foods invented by Prof. Anderson, formerly of Columbia University.

He was seeking a way to break up starch granules so the digestive juices could get to them. The old ways of cooking, baking and toasting only began to do this.

So he conceived the idea of exploding the moisture that lies in the granules, to literally blast them to pieces.

Thus he created a food on which digestion acts instantly. Never was cereal food, by any process, made even half so digestible.

But he also created, to his surprise, the most enticing cereal foods in existence.

The Lunch Room Test

We make all sorts of cereals, as most people know. So we are entirely unbiased.

We care little which food is the favorite, but we want to know which one is.

So we maintain in New York, a lunch room where hundreds of people lunch daily. There we serve all cereals, at one uniform price, and let people choose what they like best.

Once the favorite ready-cooked cereal was wheat flakes. Then it was corn flakes. Now the favorites, five to one, are the foods shot from guns.

These are the latest figures. Out of each 1,000 who take ready-cooked cereals, these are the chosen foods:

560 take Puffed Wheat
187 take Puffed Rice
159 take Corn Flakes
94 take Breakfast Biscuits

Thus we know that three-fourths of all people like Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice best. So we advertise them so that all people may know them, and all get the foods that they like.

Please judge for yourself. Serve Puffed Wheat tomorrow and Puffed Rice the next day. Then ask your people if they want these foods always, and ask them to say which they like best.

Quaker Puffed Wheat and Quaker Puffed Rice are now sold by grocers everywhere.

Nobody Knows Who Wants It But Everybody Knows Who Pays For It. The Government as Nurse, Housekeeper and Cook.

Special Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—There is a tradition that a scholar of the sixteenth century wrote a ponderous Latin treatise entitled "De Omnibus et Ceteris"—that is, in the vernacular of the street, "About everything—and then some."

How twentieth century truth may pass sixteenth century fiction is illustrated by a 500 page volume just issued from the national printing office under the title "Message From the President Transmitting Reports of the President's Homes Commission on Social Betterment of the District of Columbia."

This monument to the bughouse seems to have begun with a request from the president to James Bronson Reynolds to "act as adviser to me to investigate social conditions in the city of Washington."

Of course Jimmy Reynolds accepted. He investigated. He presented a report. And here is the report before us, with the following table of contents:

"Housing of the Poor," and especially in "alley" houses; "Building of Model Houses" with many plans, 116 pages; "Elimination of Alley Houses." "Building Regulations," twenty-three pages.

"Industrial Hygiene," with especial reference to a large number of more or less unhealthful occupations, none of which appears to be followed in a mere residence city like Washington; "Employment of Women and Children." "Prevention of Tuberculosis." "Ventilation." "Lighting." "Accidents." "German Workingmen's Insurance." "Sickness Insurance," etc., eighty-four pages.

"How to Keep Well." "Housecleaning." "Care of the Skin." "Ablutions and Baths." "Clothing as a Cause of Disease." "Footwear." "Sleep." "Dreams." "Foods." "Storerooms and Pantries." "Cooking and Eating Utensils." "Meal Hours." "Menus For Winter Months." "Menus For Summer Months" and recipes for Irish stew, cold slaw, apple pie, fried mush, stewed prunes, corned beef hash, gingerbread, tomato sauce, etc., for fifty more pages.

"Causation and Prevention of Disease," with sections on "Sickroom Care." "Tuberculosis." "Pneumonia," "Influenza." "Typhoid Fever" (with map locating all the coops and shanties in a town where they had it bad). "Infantile Mortality," with notes on maternal nursing versus bottle feeding, cow's milk, dirty milk, certified milk, pasteurized milk, care of nursing bottles, etc., fifty-seven pages.

"Health of Washington," "Vice Diseases" (with a four page statistical table). "Crusade Against the Social Evil." "The Tobacco Habit." "The Alcohol Question." "Soft Drinks." "Patent Medicines Containing Alcohol." "Inexpensive Amusements." "The Drug Habit." "Danger of Soft Drinks." "Advertised Habit Cures." "So Called Ethical Proprietary Medicines." "Infanticide." "Diphtheria Cures." "Rheumatism Cures." all sorts of cures and quackery in general, eighty pages.

"Sociological Study of 1,251 Families," including their luncheons, their installment rugs and their "loan sharks." "The Usury Evil," etc., thirty-six pages. And there are also appendixes too numerous to mention.

In fact, aside from a table of logarithms and what became of the secret service funds, there appears to be about everything in these volumes in the way of information that might be desirable in a family almanac.

How comes it to be the business of the government of the United States to compile and publish a general beauty book, cookbook and family doctor? Why should the United States government spend money to disseminate recipes for corned beef hash and gingerbread?

When was there a call for United States government rules on liver complaint, crick in the back, rheumatism, rickets and bald heads?

Who wants the United States government to hand down opinions on oatmeal gruel, poached eggs, weak stomachs and soft and hard drinks?

We do not know. Nobody knows. But here it all is, fresh from Bedlam, at a cost of $5,000 to $10,000 to the United States treasury.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

READY TO QUIT.

Two Towns That Are Tired of Trouble. Prohibition Did It.

At a special meeting of the town council yesterday a contract was entered into between the town and parties representing the Mansfield Ice Plant and Light company to purchase the municipal light plant for the consideration of $8,150. A forfeit of $100 was put up, and the Ice and Light company has until May 1 to perfect the purchase. In addition to the electric plant and franchise, the council granted to the company a gas and power franchise and fixed the price of similar franchises for other companies at $12,000. If the sale is perfected the town agrees to use $150 worth of lights per month, and the maximum rate as fixed in the contract to be charged for current is 15 cents per kilowatt.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Municipal Journal and Engineer states that the closing of the saloons is responsible for this action, as the municipal plant was "formerly maintained largely by liquor licenses." It states that the "dry" vote has produced the same result in Glouster, O., and adds that "municipal business so weak financially should have been abandoned long ago, even if this source of income had continued available."

KIDNAPING CASE FRIDAY.

Trial To Begin Next Monday in Mercer County.

Mercer, Pa., April 21.—Attorney T. C. Cochran, who will prosecute the abductors of Willie Whitla, stated today that indictments charging kidnaping will be returned against the Boyles Friday morning. The trial will begin next Monday. There will be separate trials. Boyle will be arraigned first."

"It is my intention," said Attorney Cochran, "to have the thing over with. In my opinion convictions will be secured in both cases, as I don't believe the woman can successfully combat the testimony of Willie Whitla."

At least six witnesses will appear before the grand jury Friday. They are Mr. and Mrs. Whitla, Willie, Janitor Sloss of the Sharon school, Liveryman Thompson of South Sharon and an unknown person from Warren, O.

The effort of former Judge Miller, counsel for the woman, to have the Ohio courts claim jurisdiction over Mrs. Boyle has failed.

TILLMAN SEES TAFT

Says Booker T. Washington Is More Than Half White.

Washington, April 21.—Senator Tillman, who has not been seen at the White House for some years, has made a call on President Taft. Emerging, he said:

"We have always been good friends and I have frequently gone to see him as secretary of war. There is no reason for anyone to suppose that he has tutored Roosevelt's meanness."

Mr. Tillman said he merely went to the White House to say good morning to the president and to express his "gratification upon having a gentleman there."

"I have no favors to ask of the president and no advice to offer," said Mr. Tillman.

While at the White House Senator Tillman saw Booker T. Washington for the first time.

"I was very curious to see him," said Mr. Tillman, "because it enabled me to draw my own conclusions as to the percentage of white blood there is in him. It is over one-half."

FEEDS BABY TO THE HOGS

New Orleans, April 21.—Incensed because his stepmother had left him at home near Opelousas, La., in charge of his young stepbrothers and sisters for the day, Tom Godfrey, a twelve-year-old negro boy, fed the youngest of his charges to the hogs and with an ax inflicted what will probably prove fatal wounds on the heads of the other children.

Three children were injured. The stepmother reported the crime to the authorities and Tom was placed in jail at Opelousas. She found the baby in the pen with the hogs when she returned home. Its hands and feet had been eaten off but it was still alive.

She whipped Tom and when she went for a doctor to attend the baby Tom seized an ax and attacked his six-year-old stepbrother, inflicting several deep wounds. His young stepsister interfered and he crushed her skull with the ax. The girl is dying and the other two children have little chance for recovery.

LED A FORLORN HOPE

Young Baskerville, American, Killed at Siege of Tabriz, Persia.

Tabriz, Persia, April 21.—An American named Baskerville, who until recently was a teacher in the Presbyterian school here, was killed outside Tabriz while leading a sortie of nationalists. The object of the expedition was to open a way for the bringing in of provisions, of which the city stands greatly in need. It was not successful.

The situation here is desperate. The English residents have sent a telegram to Foreign Secretary Gray at London appealing for help.

Baskerville a Minnesota Man.

St. Paul, April 21.—Homer C. Baskerville was twenty-four years old, according to his mother, who, with the young man's father, the Rev. H. C. Baskerville, resides at Royalton, Minn., where the latter is pastor of the Presbyterian church.

STREET CAR MEN VOTE TO STRIKE.

Pittsburg is Now Threatened With Traction Troubles.

WAGE INCREASE IS DEMANDED

Pittsburg Railways Company Refuses to Concede Anything Along That Line—Sanction of National Officers of Union Necessary.

Pittsburg, April 21.—Early and late mass meetings of motormen and conductors employed by the Pittsburg Railways company were held at old city hall and the voting was almost unanimous in favor of a general strike as a result of the company refusing to grant an increase in wages and to give the men what they consider more favorable working rules. The old wage scale expired at midnight.

Even though the majority of the votes call for a general strike the action of the men will have to be sanctioned by President Mahon and the executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes before the union men can quit work.

The first session was opened by a prayer and was attended by about 1,500 men, who are employed during the day. It was said the vote was about 7 to 1 for a strike. The second session began at 1:30 a. m., and each member was permitted to cast his vote for or against a strike.

At the offices of the Pittsburg Railways company it was asserted that there is no change in the situation so far as the company is concerned.

INCOME TAX PROBABLE

Majority in Senate Said to Favor Such a Measure.

Washington, April 21.—It is evident from the activity of opponents and antagonists of the income tax proposition that this question will furnish the sharpest contest to be waged in the senate during the tariff revision. In view of the fact that the Democrats are said to be unanimous for an income tax measure the leaders of the insurgent Republican faction appear to be confident of victory.

Among the Republicans declared to be in favor of an income tax are Senators Borah, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Dixon, Gamble, Guggenheim, La Follette, Nelson and Scott. In addition to these some of the insurgents are claiming Senators Jones, Bourne, Heyburn, Johnson of North Dakota and Dolliver. If the votes of all of these senators should be cast for an income tax provision they would be more than sufficient.

TOO MUCH NEPOTISM

Senator McCumber Criticizes Method of Distributing Jobs.

Washington, April 21.—The census bill was sent back to conference by the senate in order that its amendments relating to the civil service law and requiring the construction of a building for the work of the census in this city might be insisted upon.

That the census office has in its employ in one bureau the wife of a representative in congress, the wives of two officials of the war department and the wife of a prominent official in the treasury department was the charge made by Senator McCumber in criticizing the conference report on the bill.

"Promotion," he said, "seems to be almost wholly for women who have husbands in the departments. This is getting to be a city of official families holding positions under the government."

Mr. McCumber said the census bill as agreed to by the conferees did not differ materially from the measure which was vetoed in the last congress by President Roosevelt, who claimed that it contravened the spirit of the civil service law.

To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to cure the kidneys—

Save the child from deadly kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Thousands of parents recommend them.

Read this testimony.

Mrs. H. L. McCauley, 44 W. Craig street, Uniontown, Pa., says: "My daughter who is now three years old, had been troubled with kidney complaint from infancy, and probably inherited the disease. Her kidneys were very weak and she was unable to control the secretions, particularly at night. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and thinking they might help her, procured a box. I noticed an improvement from the first and continued giving them to her until she was rid of every sign of the complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills cured her and I earnestly advise mothers having children similarly afflicted, to give this remedy a trial."

NIGHT RIDERS MUST PAY

Two Negro Victims Awarded $25,000 Damages.

Paducah, Ky., April 21.—Damages of $25,000 were awarded L. A. Baker and Nat Frizzell in the federal court, the defendants against whom the judgment was rendered being alleged night riders. Baker and Frizzell are both negroes of Birmingham, Marshall county, and the allegation was that they had been whipped by the night riders.

Compromises, it is announced, have been effected in six night rider suits from Lyon county, the defendants agreeing to pay the plaintiffs $9,500.

SULTAN'S FATE IN THE BALANCE.

Capital Hemmed In and He Powerless to Assert Authority.

SOLDIERS ARE DESERTING HIM

Wholesale Defections to Invading Army Reported—Said That 200 Young Turks Are in Capital To Insure the Sultan's Execution.

London, April 21.—The special dispatches from Constantinople give varying reports of the sultan's fate. According to a news bureau dispatch, the German and Russian ambassadors have promised to do their utmost to protect his life. The same dispatch says that 200 Young Turk officers have arrived in the capital to insure the execution of the sultan, and that the preparatory formalities for the enthronement of Mehemmed-Rechad Effendi will begin today.

Another correspondent learns, according to his dispatch, that the sultan has arrived at an agreement with the committee of union and progress and the heir-apparent, Mehemmod-Rechad Effendi and has now disappeared from the palace.

In fact, the consensus of opinion is that the sultan's abdication is inevitable.

Constantinople, April 21.—Sultan Abdul Hamid is waiting in his palace for whatever may befall. He has not taken to flight, and his grand vizier, Tewfik Pasha, has announced that, without fear, the sultan will remain with his family and accept resignedly the fate which has been prepared for him and his country.

Nazim Pasha is still in command of the garrison, but no preparations have been made to offer any resistance to the advance of the Saloniki troops. The constitutionalist lines now envelop the city, but the commander-in-chief, General Husni Pasha, is still at Hademkoi and there is little likelihood that the invading army will enter the city before tonight or tomorrow.

It is understood that the Salonikins have submitted to the government a list of persons whose punishment is demanded for complicity in the recent mutiny. This list includes deputies, journalists and theologians. But apparently there is the utmost good feeling between the invaders and the residents of the city, many of whom today visited the camps of the Saloniki troops and were received hospitably by the soldiers.

Two proclamations, signed by the commanding general of the army of investment and addressed respectively to the citizens of Constantinople and the garrisons, were issued. They have had a reassuring effect.

The Constantinople garrison is deserting to the side of the constitutionalists. The capital troops have been leaving the city in small batches since early on Sunday, but the outward flow set in heavily today. It is estimated that about 4,000 men have gone over to the invading army. One party took along a battery of machine guns, with horses and full ammunition wagons. None of those attempting to join the constitutionalists without arms was accepted.

Maurer Supported by Mennonites.

Goshen, Ind., April 21.—The Rev. Henry Maurer, an American missionary, whose murder in the rioting at Adana has been reported, was supported by the Mennonite Brethren in Christ of Elkhart county, Ind., and was in charge of a school at Hadjin, Turkey. Mr. Maurer was thirty years old and was born in a German settlement in St. Joseph county, Ind. He had been in Turkey three years and was married to a Miss Hawley, who also was attached to the mission.

5,000 Massacred at Adana.

Constantinople, April 21.—No less than 5,000 persons lost their lives in the massacres that have been going on in the vilayet of Adana during the last eight days as a result of the outbreak of Moslem fanaticism. Of this total 2,000 were killed in the city of Adana, more than 300 of the victims being Moslems. This information was received in Constantinople through consular channels.

Cruisers Ordered to Turkish Waters.

Washington, April 21.—Two armored cruisers, the North Carolina and the Montana, are to be sent to the Mediterranean to protect American interests in Turkey. They will report to the consul at Alexandretta. The vessels are now in the West Indies. They are directed to proceed with all dispatch.

SHAVES $50, SUDS $10

Negro Lads Annex $10,000 From Gypsy and Spend It Like Rajahs.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Giving a barber $50 for a shave and a bartender $10 for two glasses of beer, two colored youths aroused the suspicion that they were implicated in the robbery of Rhoda Lovell, the eighty-year-old "Gypsy queen," who lost $10,000 while she lay sick in her tent at Bryn Mawr.

The boys, Samuel Lewis and Hewitt Lawrence, admitted the robbery. At the home of one of them $5,010 was found in the cellar.

SAVING BOYS THEIR AIM

Campaign of Education For Wayward Lads Begun in Boston.

Boston, April 21.—Saving the boys of the cities is the purpose of a movement begun in this city today. It will take the form of a "campaign of education" and will differ, it is said, from anything ever before tried in this country. Its purpose is the arousing of interest in the rescue of wayward, delinquent boys.

Cities and towns within twenty-five miles of Boston have been invited to assist in the movement. The program includes teachers' gatherings on two Saturday mornings and two Sunday afternoon meetings for newsboys. The meetings will be addressed by prominent speakers of Boston and other cities. The campaign will continue until May 2.

THE BEST PLACES TO FISH FOR TROUT

Fish Commissoner Meehan Tells About Conditions Throughout the State.

No man knows how good or how poor the trout fishing in this State is to be this year, but these fishing days should soon tell the tale. Everybody knows that the unprecedented drouth of last summer killed Pennsylvania trout by thousands, for the streams in some sections were almost completely dried up for weeks. The deep holes in the streams alone contained water, and the smaller of these became unfit to preserve the life of a trout before the end of the dry spell. Everything in the fish line in the stream collected in these water holes and, unless rescued, were forced to stay there until the rains of autumn brought relief. It was a case of fish eat fish and the trout, the most valued of all the fresh water fish, easily got the better of all varieties, but, where left to themselves, the medium-sized trout ate the little ones and the big fish ate those of medium size. This fight for self-preservation was in some cases continued until there was only big trout left to tell the tale. All the streams in the State were affected by the drouth to some extent, but some of them suffered much more than others.

State Fish Commissioner William E. Meehan and his assistants did much good work in rescuing these trapped trout from the dangerous predicament when the water became low, but all they could could, even with the assistance of volunteer sportsmen, many of whom turned in and helped right manfully, only a small percentage of the fish were saved. The efforts to save them gave Meehan an intimate knowledge of the conditions that existed. "There is no doubt about it," said Mr. Meehan the other day in discussing the subject, "that thousands and thousands of trout perished because of the last summer's drouth and fishermen this season are likely to find a scarcity of medium-sized fish. Most of the two and three-year-old trout in many streams were practically wiped out. Those four year old and over generally escaped, while, strange as it may seem, so did a majority of the younger trout put out last season. The smaller fry could live and thrive in so little water that they generally managed to exist. The vast number of fingerings to be found in the streams proves this, and incidentally strengthens the theory that the early spring is the time to plant trout, rather than in the mid-Summer, as they do in New York State and in Massachusetts. We have put out about eight and a half millions of trout fry in this State this year, which is only about a million less than is put out by the United States Government all over the country during the same period.

Following is the trout law which it is well to bear in mind:

That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful to fish for, or have in possession, the same being killed, any species of trout, save lake trout, except from the 15th day of April to the 31st day of July, inclusive, in each year.

It shall be unlawful to catch and kill, or have in possession, the same being killed, any brook or speckled trout, or any species or variety of trout, save lake trout, less than six inches in length.

It shall be unlawful for any person to catch and kill more than 50 brook or speckled trout in any one day. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall, on conviction thereof as provided in section 38 of this act, be subject to a fine of $10 for each fish so captured and killed over and above the number herein allowed.

It shall be lawful to use in the waters of this Commonwealth, not inhabited by trout, eel pots made of open wood work, wicker work or netting; said eel pots being of a length not exceeding five feet, with an entrance to the same not exceeding two and one-half inches across.

It shall be unlawful for any proprietor, manager, clerk, or agent of any market, hotel, boarding house, eating house, restaurant or saloon or any person, company or corporation in this Commonwealth, to purchase, sell or expose for sale any brook or speckled trout; or to contract with, or to employ, any person or persons to catch or fish for brook or speckled trout for him or them, by the day or otherwise, provided, That nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent, during the open season and six days thereafter, any person, company, or corporation from selling brook or speckled trout, bred and raised artificially in ponds.

POLLY of the CIRCUS

BY MARGARET MAYO

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY DODD, MEAD AND COMPANY

CAUGHT THE SLIP OF A GIRL IN HIS ARMS JUST AS SHE WAS ABOUT TO SINK FAINTING BENEATH THE HORSE'S HOOFS.

"So I will," answered Douglas, with his head thrown high. "This child has opened a new world to me. She has shown me a broader, deeper humanity. She and I will find the way together."

"It won't be an easy one, I'll promise you that." Strong turned to go.

"I'm not looking for the easy way," Douglas called after him; then he turned to draw Polly's arm within his, but Polly had slipped from his side to follow the deacon.

"Oh, please, Deacon Strong, please!" she pleaded. "You won't go away like that. He'll be all right if you'll only wait. I'm not coming back. I'm not—honestly. I'm going on with the show tonight, and I'm going this time forever."

"You are going to stay here with me!" cried Douglas.

"No, no, Mr. John! I've made up my mind, and I won't be to blame for your unhappiness." She faced him firmly now. "I don't belong to your world, and I don't want to try any more. I'm what he called me—I'm a circus riding girl. I was born in the circus, and I'll never change. That's my work—riding—and it's yours to preach. You must do your work, and I'll do mine."

She started toward the ring. Eloise and Barbarian were already waiting at the entrance.

"Eloise!" She took one step toward her, then stopped at the sound of Barker's voice.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he called, "although we are obliged to announce that our star rider, Miss Polly, will not appear tonight, we offer you in her place an able substitute, Mlle. Eloise, on her black, untamed horse Barbarian."

Eloise put her hands on the horse's back to mount.

"No, no!" cried Polly.

The other girl turned in astonishment at the agony in her voice.

"Polly!"

"Wait, Eloise! I'm going to ride!"

"You can't, not Barbarian! He don't know your turn."

"So much the better!" She seized the bridle from the frightened girl's hand.

"Polly!" shouted Douglas. He had followed her to the entrance.

"I must! I will!"

She flew into the ring before he could stop her. He took one step to follow her.

"You'd better let her alone and get out of here," said Strong. His voice was like a firebrand to Douglas. He turned upon him, white with rage.

"You drove her to this." His fists were clinched. He drew back to strike.

Jim came from behind the wagons just in time to catch the uplifted arm.

"Leave him to me. This ain't no parson's job." The pastor lowered his arm, but kept his threatening eyes on the deacon's face.

"Where's Poll?" asked Jim.

"In there!" Douglas pointed toward the main tent without turning his head. He was still glaring at the deacon and breathing hard.

"What!" cried Jim in alarm. He faced about and saw Eloise. He guessed the truth. A few quick strides brought him to the entrance curtains. He threw them back and looked into the ring.

"My God! Why don't Barker stop her?"

"What is it?" called Douglas. He forgot the deacon in his terror at Jim's behavior, and Strong was able to slip away unnoticed.

"She's goin' to ride! She's goin' to ride Barbarian!"

Douglas crossed to his side and looked.

Polly was springing on to the back of Barbarian. He was a poorly trained horse, used by the other girl for more showy but less dangerous feats than Polly's.

"She's goin' through her regular turn with him! She's trying to break her neck," said Jim. "She wants to do it. It's your fault!" he cried, turning upon Douglas with bloodshot eyes. He was half insane. He cared little whom he wounded.

"Why can't we stop her?" cried Douglas, unable to endure the strain. He took one step inside the entrance.

"No, no; not that!" Jim dragged him back roughly. "If she sees you now it will be the end." They watched in silence. "She's over the first part," Jim whispered at last.

Douglas drew back, his muscles tense, as he watched the scene inside the ring. Eloise stood at the pastor's side horror stricken at Polly's reckless behavior. She knew Barbarian. It was easy to guess the end.

"She's comin' to the hoops," Jim whispered hoarsely.

"Barbarian don't know that part. I never trained him," the other girl said.

Polly made the first leap toward the hoops. The horse was not at fault; it was Polly. She plunged wildly. The audience started. She caught her footing with an effort. One, two, three hoops were passed. She threw herself across the back of the horse and hung head downward as he galloped around the ring. The band was playing loudly; the people were cheering. She rose to meet the last two hoops.

"She's swayin'!" Jim shrieked in agony. "She's goin' to fall!" He covered his face with his hands.

Polly reeled and fell at the horse's side. She mounted and fell again. She rose and staggered in pursuit.

"I can't bear it!" groaned Douglas. He rushed into the ring, unconscious of the thousands of eyes bent upon his black ministerial garb, and caught the slip of a girl in his arms just as she was about to sink fainting beneath the horse's hoofs.

Barker brought the performance to a halt with a crack of his whip. The audience was on tiptoe. White faced clowns and gayly attired acrobats crowded around Polly and the pastor.

Douglas did not see them. He had come into his own.

"He's bringin' her out," whispered Eloise, who still watched at the entrance. Jim dared not look up. His head was still in his hands.

"Is it over?" he groaned.

"I don't know. I can't tell yet." She stepped aside as Douglas came out of the tent, followed by a swarm of performers. He knelt on the soft grass and rested Polly's head upon his knee. The others pressed about them. It seemed to Douglas that he waited hours; then her white lids quivered and opened, and the color crept back to her lips.

"It's all right, Jim!" called one of the men from the crowd. "She's only fainted." The big fellow had waited in his tracks for the verdict.

Polly's eyes looked up into those of the parson. A thrill shot through his veins.

"It was no use, was it?" She shook her head, with a sad little smile. He knew that she was thinking of her failure to get out of his way.

"That's because I need you so much, Polly, that God won't let you go away from me." He drew her nearer to him, and the warm blood that shot to her cheeks brought back her strength. She rose unsteadily and looked about her. Jim came toward her, white and trembling.

"All right, Poll?"

"Oh, Muvver Jim!" She threw herself into his arms and clung to him, sobbing weakly.

No one could ever remember just how the audience left the big top that night, and even Barker had no clear idea of how Jim took down the tents, loaded the great wagons and sent the caravan on its way.

When the last wagon was beginning to climb the long, winding road of the moonlit hill Jim turned to Polly, who stood near the side of the deserted ring. His eyes traveled from her to the parson, who waited near her. She was in her street clothes now, the little brown Quakerish dress which she had chosen to wear so much since her return from the parsonage.

"I guess I won't be makin' no mistake this time," he said, and he placed her hand in that of the parson.

"Goodby, Muvver Jim," faltered Polly.

He stooped and touched her forehead with his lips. A mother's spirit breathed through his kiss.

"I'm glad it's like this," he said; then turned away, and followed the long, dotted line of winding lights disappearing slowly over the hill.

Her eyes traveled after him.

Douglas touched the cold little hand at her side.

"I belong with them," she said, still gazing after Jim and the wagons.

"You belong with me," he answered in a firm, grave voice, and something in the deep, sure tones told her that he was speaking the truth. She lifted one trembling hand to his shoulder and looked up into his face.

"Whither thou goest will I go; where thou diest will I die."

He drew her into his arms.

"The Lord do so to me and more also if aught but death part thee and me."

BALDNESS UNKNOWN.

Twenty Years From To-day a Bald-headed Man Will Be An Unusual Sight.

One of the most prominent druggists of America made a statement a few weeks ago which has caused a great deal of discussion among scientists in the medical press.

He said: "If the new hair grower, Parisian Sage, increases its sales as it has during the past year, it will be used by nearly every man, woman and child in America within eight years."

"And when Parisian Sage is used almost universally, dandruff will disappear and with its departure baldness, itching scalp, splitting hair and all scalp diseases will follow and twenty years from now a baldhead will be a rarity."

There is only one way to cure dandruff, and that is to kill the germs. There is only one hair preparation that will kill the germs, and that is Parisian Sage.

This unusual hair restorer, with its record of thousands of cures will grow hair on any head where there is any life left; it is guaranteed by A. A. Clarke to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It is the most pleasant and invigorating tonic, is not sticky or greasy and is used extensively by ladies of refinement, who desire to have and to keep their hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant.

The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package of Parisian Sage.

Only 50 cents for a large bottle at A. A. Clarke's Drug Store or direct by express, all charges prepared by the American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

BIG JIM SETS AUDIENCE WILD

By Announcing From Stage His Willingness to Fight Johnson.

LATTER MUST BEAT KETCHEL

Remarkable Scene Enacted in New York Theatre When James J. Jeffries, Attired Like an Ancient Roman, Appears on Stage.

New York, April 21.—"I will fight Mr. Jack Johnson. I will defend my title as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world."

Before an audience that packed the American music hall, and in which there were as many women as men, James J. Jeffries made this formal announcement.

It was a signal for great joy. Excited men leaped from their seats, shouted and cheered, and the many women in the audience applauded. Their shrill and excited cries of approval as they stood up and waved their handkerchiefs and even their peach basket hats to the ponderous, bowing and blushing "undefeated champion" added picturesqueness to a remarkable scene.

In the street were hundreds of persons who could not get into the theater, although high premiums were offered for seats. Jeffries had promised to give his decision last night. These waited for Jeffries and the police had to clear a way for him to his automobile or he might have been captured and borne off by his admirers.

Carbed in Bathrobe.

After his sparring exhibition with Sam Berger the audience shouted for Jeffries to come out and make the statement he had promised. "The big fellow" soon appeared, his bath robe or dressing gown revealing only his shaggy head and great red fists.

The house went wild, literally, and Jeffries stood near the footlights, smiling and bowing and raising his hands for order. After several minutes the audience became reasonably quiet and Jeffries started off:

"Ladies and Gentlemen"—

"Cut that out, Jeff! come to the point," cried a voice in the gallery.

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart"—

"Never mind that—are you going to fight?" came another voice.

"I suppose you want to hear something else," continued Jeffries, smiling at the interruption.

"You bet we do," yelled dozens of men.

"Well, I am satisfied after about seven weeks' work"—

Feels as Good as Ever.

"Quit your kidding," came another interruption.

—"that I can get in just as good condition as I ever was and I will fight Mr. Jack Johnson."

If Jeffries had anything more to say he could not have been heard. He ran off the stage while the auditorium became a bedlam of noise and joy.

There are several conditions attached to Jeffries's reentry into the prize ring. First, Johnson must defeat Ketchel. Then Jeffries cannot sign articles for possibly ten months and he insists that the fight shall take place in this country and that it shall be unlimited as to rounds.

NOT TO ATTEND WEDDING.

Ambassador White Resents Action of French Bishop.

Paris, April 21.—Arrangements for the wedding of Count Hermann Scherr-Thoss and Miss Muriel White, daughter of the American ambassador, are complete. The civil ceremony will be performed April 28. The following day the religious marriage will be celebrated at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Ambassador White will not attend the religious ceremony. As Miss White retains her Protestant faith, her family greatly desired that both Protestant and Catholic services should follow the civil marriage, and the groom-elect and family were in full sympathy with this. Cardinal Kopp, bishop of Breslau, the diocese in which the couple will live, declined, however, to grant a dispensation for the marriage except on condition that the groom refrain from attending any other religious ceremony.

Ambassador White, as a protest against the attitude of the ecclesiastical authorities, has decided not to attend the Catholic ceremony. With regard to the decision he says:

"Under the circumstances and as the representative of a country eminent for its religious toleration, although predominantly Protestant, I have decided not to attend the service at St. Joseph's."

COMPETITION PROMISED

New Light-Draft River Boat May Do Great Things.

St. Louis, April 21.—A new style of river boat, designed by W. K. Kavanaugh, president of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterway association; is believed by river traffic advocates to make possible an extensive competition between the rivers and the railroads.

Mr. Kavanaugh's boat is designed to carry heavy loads with a light draft and is suitable for navigation in eight feet of water.

FAMILY CURED OF SKIN TROUBLES

Two Little Girls had Eczema Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches—Father's Head Sore from Childhood—In All Three Cases

CUTICURA MET WITH ITS USUAL SUCCESS

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her, but it did not give in until warm weather when it seemingly subsided. The next winter when it became cold weather the eczema started again and also in her head where it would take the hair out and leave bare patches as large as a quarter of a dollar. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician and he said that she had two distinct types of eczema. I continued with him for several weeks and the child grew worse all of the time. Her sister's arms were also affected in the same way. My husband came home one day with a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I began using them and also the Cuticura Pills and by the time the second lot was used their skin was soft and smooth as it had not been before for the winter. We keep the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment constantly by us and when any little roughness or irritation appears on their skin I quickly dispel it with the Cuticura Remedies. My husband has used them with most satisfactory results for a sore head which has troubled him from childhood. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me., Sept. 21, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful remedies for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, of infants, children and adults, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed by mild doses of Cuticura Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.), and Cuticura Comfort Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston.

ROOSEVELT EXPECTED

Preparations For His Reception at Mombasa Are Complete.

Mombasa, British East Africa, April 21.—King Edward has sent a personal cablegram to F. J. Jackson, acting governor of the protectorate, instructing him to meet Theodore Roosevelt upon his arrival here and show him every consideration and care.

The steamer Admiral, with the Roosevelt party on board, has been delayed and may not arrive here at the scheduled time today.

The special train to take the Roosevelt party to Kapiti station, whence they will go to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Athi river, is all ready. The present plan is for Mr. Roosevelt to leave here for Kapiti tomorrow afternoon. He will be entertained this evening at dinner by the Mombasa club.

Major Louis J. Seaman of New York expresses the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt's greatest danger would be from the tsetse fly, whose bite is said to be fatal, and the spirillu tick.

CASSIDY ELECTED

Succeeds Burton as Congressman From Twenty-First Ohio.

Cleveland, April 21.—James H. Cassidy, Republican, has been elected representative in congress from the Twenty-first Ohio district to succeed Theodore E. Burton, recently chosen United States senator. Cassidy's majority over Matthew B. Excell, Democrat, is in excess of 4,000.

The successful candidate formerly was secretary of the rivers and harbors committee of the house.

WRIGHT-METZLER CO.

THERE isn't a garment stock in all Fayette county as jealously guarded as our. We don't allow a single suit to lengthen its stay beyond the time we set for its sale, as a result of this policy over fifty women can purchase a Wright-Metzler suit at a saving. We have cut the prices on a few, over fifty spic, span new suits. Truth of the matter is we've got just about fifty suits more than we ought to have, with over a hundred suits to come in yet this month on "back orders." We're not taking a loss on them ,that's not necessary, but we're willing to give you our profits and keep our stocks within their normal limits. It's just good every day common sense that prompts this sale, but it brings to you values far above the ordinary for every suit involved has been picked from our regular stocks. That means they're critically made in every detail and of selected fabrics. They're Wright-Metzler suits with all the distinctive style, dash and exclusiveness that distinguishes them from the ordinary and when we tell you that we'll sell you a $16.50 suit for $12.25, or a $25.00 suit at $19.75, we mean just that. They're not fictious values, but represent real economies and there's scarcely two of them alike. If the styles are identical, the colors differ, giving the suit an utterly changed appearance. Don't delay buying in the hope, perhaps, that the price will be again lowered, for remember, both groups only include a few more than fifty suits and there's plenty ofshrewd women in this community that these suits will look mighty good to and when they're sold they cannot be duplicated and they'll go in a jiffy.

EVERY Suit in this group is worth every penny of $25.00. They're taken from our regular $25.00 stocks; shown in whipcords, fancy worsteds and serges, in black, navy, mulberry, taupe and various shades of green and blue, and a few tan shades; coats are lined throughout with messaline silk; skirts are plain gored. These suits are faultlessly tailored and of very newest designing. Between twenty-five and thirty of them in all, and we specialize, remember on suits at $25.00. This means they're better than $25.00 values elsewhere. Can't you see how quickly they'll go at this little price we are asking for them? $19.75

TWELVE-twenty-five ordinarily would not appeal to careful women as a safe price to pay for a suit. We would not advise it ordinarily, but in this instance it's purchasing power has been broadened. It deals with suits we've been selling at $15.00 and $16.50, and putting our names in them. That's sufficient guarantee of their worthiness, isn't it? But don't take any ones word for it when the price is so low. We're tempted to believe we would doubt ourselves until we were shown. That seems a mighty low price to pay for a dependable suit doesn't it? But we have the suits here, nearly thirty of them, so it's an easy matter to see them. You'll be convinced of their goodness then. They're satin lined throughout, made from fancy worsteds. We will sell them at $12.25

OUR showing of materials for the making of tub suits is beyond question the broadest and most carefully selected stock of such materials that you'll find in this section, and they are different this season in both weave and finish that they may conform to fashion's demand of materials that "drape"—dainty striped linens, stylish barred linens. Then a wonderful showing of plain colorings in variously woven and finished materials, all of them having a lustrous, linen finish. They're all made especially for tub suits, and there'll be nothing to compare with this class of suits when the real hot season comes. Everything indicates that they will be wonderfully popular and we would suggest that you choose your materials now while the selection is at its best. Every design is authentic. Every material correct beyond a shadow of doubt. The variety shown is no small feature of this showing as it presents a collection that will hold your particular choice.

THE SOISSON.

"The Witching Hour."

At the Soisson Theatre on Wednesday evening, April 28, Augustus Thomas' most famous and successful play "The Witching Hour" will be presented. "The Witching Hour" is unquestionably one of the most novel entertaining and forceful dramas ever given presentation in this or any other country. It is the finished, faithful effort of the world's master dramatist. That its celebrated author, Augustus Thomas hails from America, is certainly a distinction his many local friends and acquaintances are proud of.

The story of "The Witching Hour" is one of absorbing interest. Its situations are strikingly original and undeniably effective. Its climaxes are ingenious and skillfully unfolded. It is a play of rapid action and picturesque, pulse quickening happenings follow one another in ever increasing fervor.

It abounds in telepathic transmissions of thought, hypnotic influences and mental suggestions. But all these mysterious physic forces are but occurrences in this, the greatest of modern dramas. They are a part of and belong to the play, the same as do incidents of love, hate, jealousy and revenge.

The Messrs. S. S. and Lee Shubert have equipped "The Witching Hour" with scenic apparel of surpassing beauty; with artistic and appropriate furniture, mountings and bric-a-brac.
